IN MEMORY OF BRAD SWANSON
SENIOR CLASS 1985

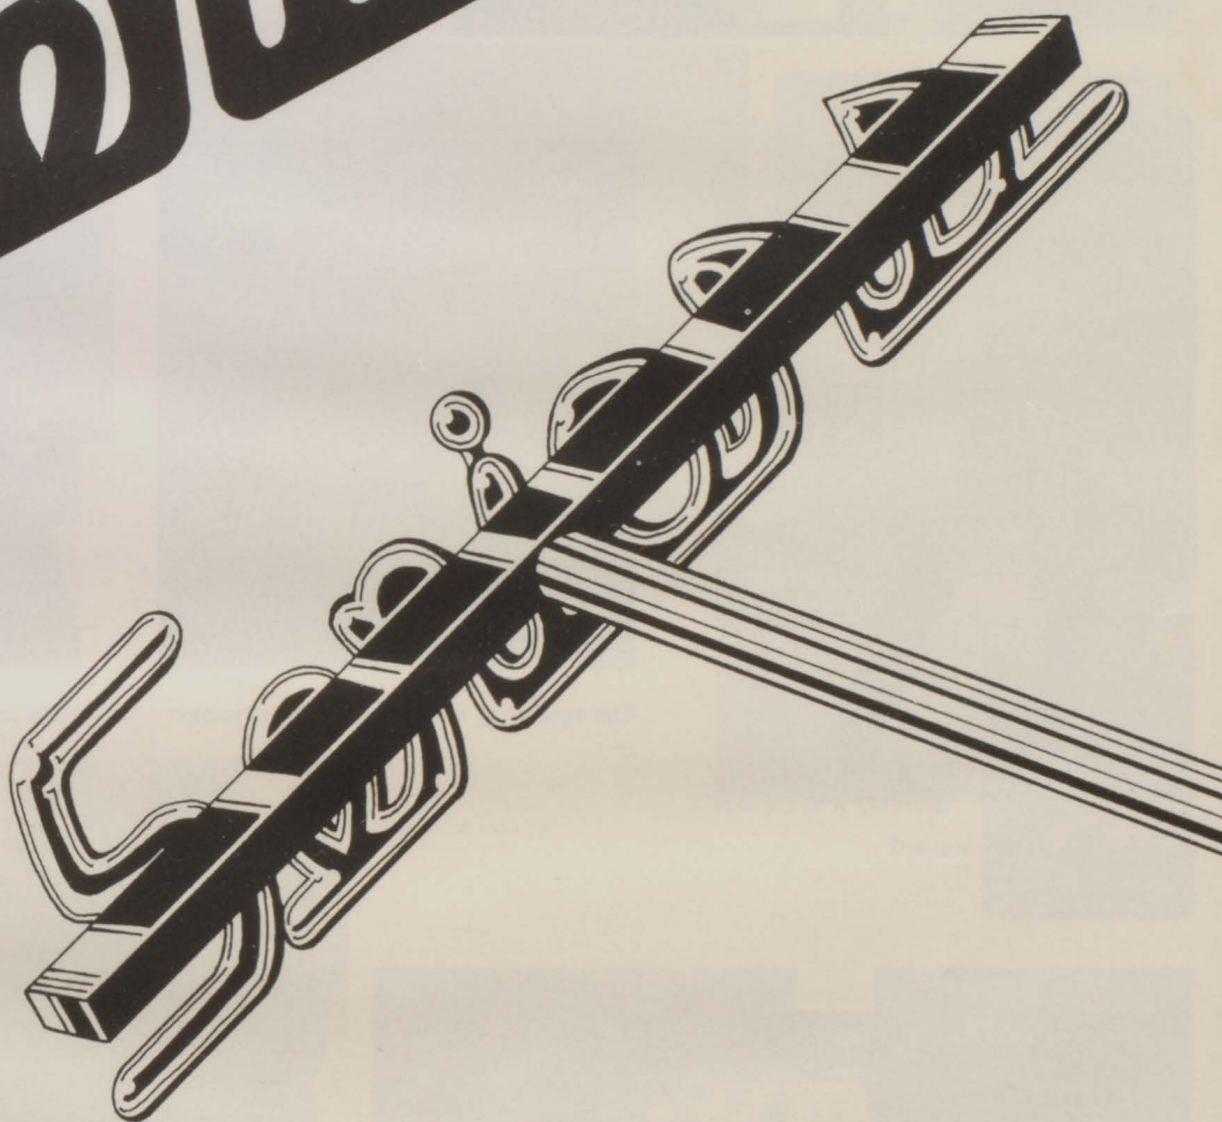

A TRIBUTE TO BRAD SWANSON
FROM ALL OF US

To the student who exhibited the attentive attitude to subject matter, the respect to the teacher, and the example for others that made being his teacher an uplifting experience. To the athlete who exhibited the spirit of competition and the fairness and unselfishness to teammates and opponents. To the schoolmate who by his quiet and friendly example left his many school friends saying, "I can't remember him ever saying anything bad about anybody." To the classmate who shared all the good times and bad times and feelings that only classmates can have. To the nephew who could leave every aunt and uncle saying, "I hope I have a son like him some day." To the brother . . . the big brother . . . who was the kind of gentle, loving protector, the shining star we loved so much. To the son and grandson that makes every parent proud to say, "that's my boy" and I cherish every minute I had with him and every memory I have of him. To the child of God who gave us so many reasons to love him and see the face of Christ in him.

HOMECOMING

This year Homecoming began with spirit week. Many students participated including teachers, staff, and elementary students.

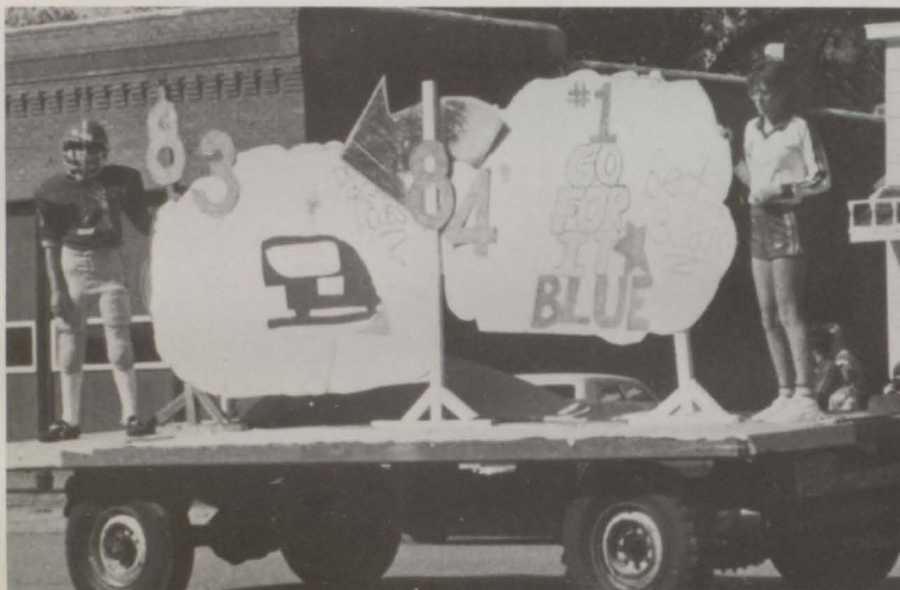

The week began with Senior Citizen Day. The winners were Monica Hutsell and Billy Mersch. Tuesday was Career Day. The winners were Craig Bamesburger and Melanie Holtan. Due to school pictures, Wednesday was Dress-Up Day. Making the perfect couple for the prom were Dennis Saum and Lisa Ferguson. Thursday was Hawaiian Day. The winners were Ken Russell and Marni Nelson. Friday was Blue and Gold Day. Showing the most school spirit was Greg Ruzicka and Tonja Jacobsen.

The 1984 Homecoming Royalty was crowned Friday afternoon at the coronation ceremony. Ken Russell and Lisa Ortegren were crowned king and queen. Attendants were Lynn Menke and Melissa Nelson.

Following the coronation ceremony there was a parade down Main Street. Every class participated, including the elementary school.

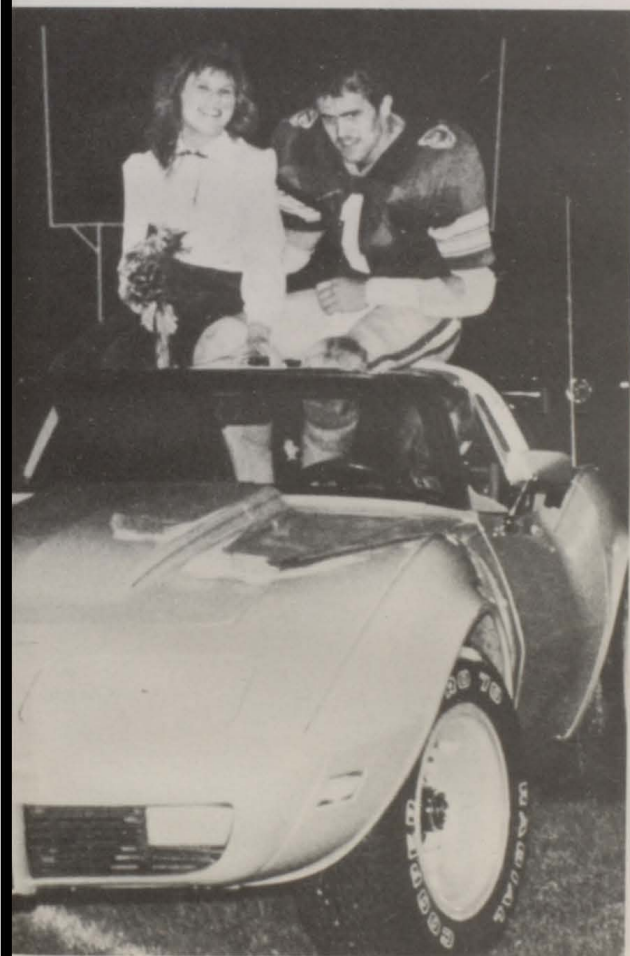

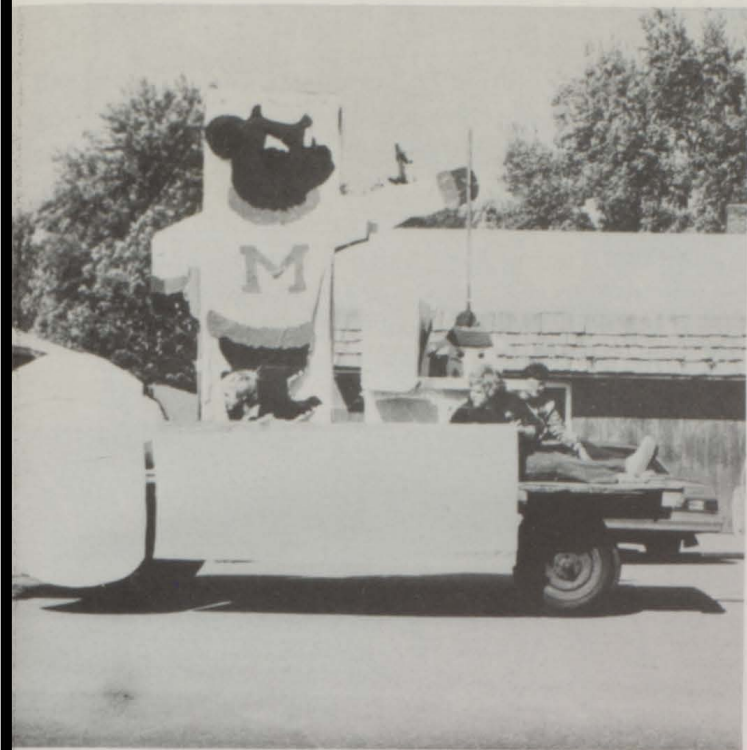

Homecoming week was highlighted by the victory of both the volleyball and football teams over Hordville.

The 1984 Homecoming was a very busy time for everyone. It was also a very memorable occasion.

RHONDA'S PAGE

To the Senior Class,

Thanks for being such a good group of leaders, that's important for your class to show. You all did well! Good luck with your future plans and always aim high.

To the Junior Class,

You've got big shoes to fill and being the people I know you all are I know you'll do a fine job. Plan for the best, expect only the worst, and take what you get with gratitude.

To the Sophomore Class,

You've all been great friends and have lots of potential. Keep up the good work and you'll be out before you know it.

To the Freshman Class,

Whatever you do, don't give in now. You've only got three years left. HA! HA!

To all the Staff,

Even though I haven't met all of you, I know you're excellent in everything you do from the talk of your students. Keep up the hard and dedicated work, I'll be looking forward to working with you all next year.

You've all been super good friends and you accepted me with open arms. Thanks for the listening ears, the shoulders to cry on, and the friendships we can have forever.

God Bless,
Rhonda Slatter
